ABOUT

Integration Law Group is an international law firm uniquely positioned to handle complex international matters seamlessly. From our offices in Los Angeles and Taipei, we serve our clients located in the U.S. and the Greater China Region. We have provided clients with results — successfully resolving cases, closing deals, protecting assets, and adding value.

What sets Integration Law Group apart

1

International Presence & Cross-Border Services

We have genuine regional coverage and local legal knowledge. We offer innovative and workable solutions that transcend geographic boundaries through the integration of local expertise from multiple jurisdictions. With professionals based in Los Angeles and Taipei, we provide efficient representation with local expertise in both California and Taiwan.

2

Firm Grasp of Disparate Legal Systems

Our attorneys offer decades of combined legal experience in California and Taiwan. When you engage Integration Law Group, you gain access to an experienced team with significant litigation and transactional experience. We offer the precision and certainty our clients demand.

3

Understanding of Cultural Differences

The failure to account for cultural differences can cause problems. From negotiation tactics to societal norms, it is crucial to have a deep understanding of the cultural influences at play in cross-border transactions and lawsuits. Our attorneys are familiar with these issues and understand the nuances that can have significant implications for legal matters.

4

Strong Work Ethic

Clients are at the heart of our law practice. Our firm's mission is to provide clients with the best legal representation possible. Our representation of clients' interests is rigorous, intelligent and uncompromising, whether they are pursuing a business opportunity or litigating against business rivals.

Services

Our diverse practice includes litigating commercial disputes, facilitating business transactions, and protecting intellectual property rights in both the United States and Taiwan. We're committed to providing our clients with the highest value and quality of legal representation.

Here's what our clients say about us:

1

Understanding Clients' Goals and Needs

Understanding exactly what each of our clients' goals and needs lies at the heart of our approach to law. Every litigation decision stems from those goals, guiding each strategic and tactical move along the way. Our definition of winning is to achieve the best result possible for each client in the most efficient way possible.

2

Customized Legal Representation

With our client's goals at the forefront, we provide flexible legal representation, even in unusual scenarios with additional requirements. We recognize that each client's case may be different and when such scenarios arise, we can tailor our approach to each client's unique case, working with our client to find the best solution for our client's needs.

3

Solving Local Problems to Achieve Global Goals

Our team in Taiwan and U.S. offers integrated solutions to global issues. Integration Law Group has the resources and capabilities to meet the needs of our clients that are outside of the core practice areas of other domestic law firms. Through attunement to cultural and linguistic challenges, we help our clients achieve favorable outcomes through our aggressive advocacy.

Representative Matters

◆ U.S. Business Litigation

We represented a software development company against its client in California in breach of contract arbitration involving IP licenses from Universal Studios. We won a multi-million arbitration award, which was then converted into a multi-million judgment.

◆ U.S. Business and Corporate Litigation

We represented a corporate shareholder in business fraud litigation in Delaware Court of Chancery against the joint venture company's officer. We obtained a favorable settlement that achieved our client's goals.

◆ U.S. Business and Corporate Litigation

In a case involving post-acquisition disputes, we defended the acquirer and its newly-acquired California subsidiary in multiple corporate and employment lawsuits. We successfully defended those lawsuits and obtained favorable pre-trial settlements.

International Litigation Support

We also work with other law firms that need outside help in handling complex cross-border legal issues in California and Taiwan. With our integrated operations and a deep understanding of unique legal issues commonly seen in international litigation, we assist with all aspects of issues involved in international litigation, including service of process, extraterritorial discovery, and enforcement of foreign judgment.

◆ International Commercial Disputes

We have represented dozens of clients involved in international commercial disputes against their business opponents ranging from large global corporations to mid-size and emerging companies. We were able to obtain favorable settlements for our clients.

◆ Business Disputes in China

We have handled business disputes related to investments in China. Working with Chinese law firms, we successfully resolved these disputes through negotiation and litigation, obtaining favorable settlements or winning civil judgments for our clients.

◆ International Probate Disputes

We have successfully handled international probate matters pending in Taiwan and California courts involving children born out of wedlock, fraudulent donative transfers, and inheritance of real properties, stocks, cash, and membership in the ancestor veneration association.

Transactional Matters

For companies that operate in multiple jurisdictions, careful structuring of business organizations and comprehensive legal compliance all take on heightened importance. We provide practical advice regarding a wide range of business matters. We work with companies of all sizes, helping them achieve their long-term and short-term goals. While we work with many clients on an as-needed basis, our attorneys are also available to provide general counsel-type services to companies with daily or ongoing legal needs.
